Policy for Slow and Advanced Learners

MS College of Law, in view of its vision and mission of achieving academic excellence strives to identify various learning levels of the students so as to cater to their specific educational needs. Students admitted to the college are from a diverse socio-cultural, economic and educational background. Taking into consideration the varied needs of these students, it is imperative to identify slow and advanced learners at the entry level itself. Slow learners are the students who find it difficult to understand the subjects being taught in class. Their slow performance may not necessarily be due to lack of learning capacity but may be due to other underlying reasons inter-alia lack of motivation and support, background. Lack of language skills. Conversely, advanced learners possess above par potential, self-motivation and understanding capacity to achieve higher scores.

The objectives of this policy are as under:

1. To specifically identify slow and advanced learners.
2. To adopt strategies that will benefit both slow and advanced learners.
3. To bridge the gap between slow and advanced learners.
4. To encourage advanced learners to achieve a peerless state / unique position in their respective fields of study and career choices.

Identification of slow and advanced learners:

At an early entry level, the students should be identified based on their past scores / grades and also through their interactions in class, motivation and pace of learning.

Slow Learners:

1. Less marks in previous examination
2. Lack of interest and self-motivation
3. Lack of responses and interactions with teachers in class
4. Less capacity to understand concepts and the topics being tar-right
5. Inability to understand the gaps between theory and practice

Advanced Learners:

1. High scores in exam domatiums
2. Higher order of interest and self-motivation
3. Quick and intelligent responses in class
4. Higher capacity to understand concepts and the topics being taught
5. Higher capacity to apply the gained knowledge to real life problems

Strategies for handling slow and advanced Learners:Slow Learners:

1. Special attention to students who have been identified as slow learners.
2. Adopting different teaching strategies to improve slow learners during regular lectures and by conducting remedial lectures to rectify their vulnerabilities.
3. Guidance for writing model answers, explaining concepts in vernacular languages
4. Where ever possible and suggestions of various books and reading materials.
5. Encouragement to interact more in class.
6. Workshops for enhancing soft skills and for career guidance and work readiness for the identified slow learners.
7. Guidance through Mentor-Mentee programs.
